NEW YORK STOCKS.

Exchange.

NEW YORK, March 2—A decided change came over the spirit of speculation in the stock exchange today. Business continued dull throughout the forenoon, and with the exception of some show of weakness in the early dealings, prices were firm without any very material changes in quotations. Rumors were almost entirely absent from the market, and the only news that was of any importance was the agreement had been reached between the General Electric and the Drexel, Morgan & Co. syndicate, and after midday confirmations of these rumors began to arrive, so that the market began to advance rapidly, especially for Coal stocks, and the market remained active and strong throughout the afternoon. Market closed strong at or very near the highest figures of the day, and with a gain of 1/2 per cent for Lackawanna, 1/4 per cent for Delaware and Hudson; 2 for Reading; 1/4 for Jersey Central; 1/4 for Erie preferred, and 1/4 for Erie common; 1/4 for the remainder of the Erie, 1/4 for Lake Shore, New York Central and Union Pacific being the strongest stocks. Sales 450,000 shares.

Exchange 487 1/2. Money 1/4. Sub-treasury balances, Gov. 116,211,000; currency 11,945,000. Government active; at 127 1/2. State bonds very active.

A FEAST OF MISDEEDS.
A BURGLAR SMASHED A WINDOW GLASS AND RAN.
He is Pursued, Shot at and Captured—Prater, the Pedestrian, and His Field-Deson Blackman Bound Over—Three Women Have a Fight—Other Criminal Items.
Six pistol shots fired in rapid succession on Whitehall street, between Hunter and Mitchell, at one o'clock this morning, caused every window for blocks around to go up and created an intense excitement in that portion of the city. The shots were fired by Patrolmen Poole and Martin, and were aimed at a midnight house breaker.
Just before one o'clock, Patrolmen Poole, Martin and Walton met near the corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets. The three men had PUT IN A FULL TWELVE HOURS' work and were tired. They were anxiously waiting for the relief that was being formed at police headquarters. Finally the morning watch was seen turning into Hunter street from Pryor, and Patrolman Poole said:
"There they come, boys."
Just then he noticed a negro walking leisurely down Whitehall street. The negro stopped on the corner near McConnell and James' store and looked carefully about him. The three policemen were then standing in the shadow of Chamberlin, Johnson & Co's. new building and could not be seen by the darky. He evidently DID NOT SEE THEM.
He walked straight up to McConnell & James' door and attempted to open it. The three patrolmen watched him. He failed to open the door and then attempted to kick it open, but without success. Then the darky walked down Whitehall looking about him carefully as he went along. The patrolmen watched him. In a few seconds he reached Hips & Dunan's store. Here he stopped again and looked around carefully. He saw no one, and tried to open the store door. Again he failed. Then he walked up to the show window and with a stone
HE SHED ONE OF THE LARGE PICTURE WINDOWS into a million pieces. As the glass broke the darky shoved his hand in and grabbed a box. Like a flash he was off. But the three patrolmen were after him. Patrolman Poole called him to stop, but the darky only increased his speed. Then the patrolman drew his pistol and began firing. The patrolman Martin opened fire two and down the street at full speed, shooting at every jump, the patrolmen went, pressing close upon the darky. When the darky reached Mitchell street he turned to the right and started off again. Near Broad he encountered Patrolmen Nolan and Sheridan, who were waiting for the relief watch, too. As soon as the darky saw the officers he turned suddenly
AND DARTED INTO AN ALLEY.
Here, all was dark, but Patrolman Poole followed and finally stumbled on the man. He was bent down in a corner trying to hide. He was pulled out and conducted to police headquarters where he gave his name as Reuben S. Buchanan.
In searching him at police headquarters Mr. Buchanan found that one ball had plowed its way through Swanson's coat, but that his flesh had not been touched. Swanson works at the Kimball.
After Swanson was looked up Patrolman Poole said: "I was a little afraid to shoot at first, but I couldn't let a burglar work a house on my beat and get away. It may be luck, but I have caught every burglar who has worked on my beat."
WITH A COTTON HOOK.
David Stokes, a desperate darky, who has been wanted since Saturday night for a desperate deed, was arrested last night by Captain Russell and Patrolmen Hildebrand and Lynum. On Saturday night last about 12 o'clock Mr. Hagerman, who lives in the rear of the fourth ward, went to Dr. Huss's house to have him call to see a sick child. The night was dark, and as Dr. Huss and Mr. Hagerman walked along they could see only a few feet in front of them, but this did not bother them as they had no thought of an assault. When the two gentlemen were directly in front of Mr. Hagerman's house, Stokes suddenly appeared in front of them and commanded them to halt. At the same time he DISPLAYED A LARGE COTTON HOOK
in his hand. Mr. Hagerman had his hand on his gun, when Stokes first spoke. Stokes noticed this and said:
"If you go in that gate I'll kill you."
"But this is my house," said Mr. Hagerman. "I don't make any difference," said Stokes, "don't you go in there."
As Stokes spoke he turned his head toward the street. Mr. Hagerman saw this, and believing it his opportunity, knocked the darky into the street. He and Dr. Huss then went into the house. Then Mr. Hagerman turned himself and returned to the street, but Stokes was gone. The case was reported at police headquarters Sunday morning, and was quickly worked so that Stokes could not escape. It was known. Late last night the captain ran upon him, and this morning he will stand up in police court to answer the charge of disorderly conduct and quarreling.
PRATER AND HIS PISTOL.
Prater, the pedestrian, will face Judge Anderson during the session of police court this morning, and enter a plea to the charge of disorderly conduct and discharging fire arms in the city limits.
The case against Prater had its origin in a like trouble night before last.
About dark Monday night Prater was on Collins street near Ballard's baggage transfer station, and there came in contact with a negro man. The negro made some remark about Prater, and before Prater could respond threw a large stone at him. The stone missed Prater and it made Prater mad. He whirled around and started for the negro, who ran. Prater gave chase, and when the negro reached the railroad track he turned towards Calhoun street and hustled. Prater followed, but for once found that he had tackled a swift footed flyer, upon whom he could not gain. The night was dark and during the race two or three pistol shots were fired. The shooting attracted the attention of the patrolmen on the beat, and in investigating it they were informed that Prater did the shooting. Yesterday afternoon Patrolman Strode made a case against Prater. Prater, however, asserts most positively that he did not do the shooting.
A TRIO OF FEMALE FIGHTERS.
Mabel Allen, Eliza Pace and Sallie Morgan, three black haired, black eyed, black faced dandies, raised a big excitement on Peters street near Walker street, about twelve o'clock last night, by engaging in a riot. The riot was fought, pulled hair, bit, but did not die—all over a block for fully three minutes. Patrolmen Nolan and Sheridan, who were on the lower corner of the street, saw the row and reached the battle ground in time to scoop the trio in. "Black Maria" was sent for and the three women are now behind the bars, waiting for Judge Anderson to eat his breakfast and open police court this morning. They will then answer the charge of disorderly conduct and quarreling.
A HUNDRED DOLLAR BOND.
Yesterday morning about three o'clock Young O'Neil attempted to kill Robert Campbell by knocking him in the head with a stick. O'Neil managed to get in one blow, a severe one, which drew the blood; but before he could strike again, Patrolman Lynch came upon the scene and arrested O'Neil. Yesterday morning O'Neil was arraigned in police court. He was charged with disorderly conduct and quarreling. The evidence showed that he assaulted Campbell without provocation, and Judge Anderson required him to give a $100 bond for his appearance to answer for assault and battery.
A HUNDRED DOLLAR BOND.
Mack Gardner, a negro man, was bound over by Judge Anderson yesterday morning in the sum of one hundred dollars for assault and battery. Several days ago Minnie Favors, a negro woman well known in police circles, was knocked down and badly beaten up by a negro man. The difficulty occurred on Ivy street and was reported at police headquarters. Early yesterday morning Patrolmen Holland and Martin found Mack Gardner and arrested him, but when the case was called in police court, the woman swore that it was not Mack Gardner, but Mack Smith who struck her. Other witnesses swore that it was Gardner, and he was given the benefit of the doubt.

WANTED TO WHIP HIS SISTER.
Joe Dudley, to his wife's home on Butler street yesterday morning about two o'clock and gave her a severe whipping. The woman's cries attracted the attention of Captain Crim, who quickly had Dudley behind the bars. Last Christmas Dudley came very near killing his sister and is now under bond to the city court for assault and battery.
COWEN'S COWS RECOVERED.
L. Cohen, the liquor man, the victim of the safe-blowers, the man from whom eight cows were stolen a few nights ago, has recovered the cows. They were found yesterday near East Point.
AFTER THE WOMAN.
Yesterday afternoon, while Judge Cunningham was absent from home, his cook became angry at Mrs. Cunningham, and abused her terribly. Mrs. Cunningham ordered the woman off the place, but she declined to go until Mrs. Cunningham entered her bedroom. The negro then gathered together some furniture that did not belong to her and skipped out Judge Cunningham reported the case at police headquarters last night, and asked for the arrest of the woman.
A LOST BOY.
Tommy Myers, a five-year-old boy whose home is on James street, could not be found by his parents last night, and they are now anxious about the boy. He left home yesterday afternoon about three o'clock to go to a store for his mother. He should have returned in twenty minutes, but had not turned up at midnight.
IN THE CITY COURT.
A Short Story About a Three-Gallon a Day Cow.
T. J. Maloney, of DeKalb county, wanted a good milk cow.
One day while in Atlanta he noticed a fine looking cow offered for sale on the streets by J. C. Huff, who informed Maloney that he could get the cow for thirty dollars cash, and that he would guarantee her to give three gallons of milk every twenty-four hours. The cow was sold, and Maloney had the cow driven to his home in DeKalb county. When the milkmaid came to pull the teats she strained every nerve but found only about two gallons of milk in the teat, and the cow had given him a kick on the side.
Huff said he didn't give a guarantee that the cow would give three gallons of milk a day, and that Maloney wrote him a letter saying that if he would refund the $30 he would be settled. Yesterday Judge Van Epps, in the city court, decided in favor of the defendant.
A LIVELY CASE.
A. W. Burnett, the colored editor of the DeKalb, was before the city court yesterday charged with criminal libel.
In June last Burnett published in his paper that A. B. Rhodes had put a man named P. P. Snook, who does not want to rob you."
Mr. Rhodes didn't like the article, and set about bringing Burnett to account.
In the trial, Rhodes said that he had been brought out, and the case was not more than half finished when court adjourned.
A Great Drive in Gent's Goods.
A most attractive and cheap lot of gent's furnishing goods is now being sold at No. 11 Kimball house, being the receiver's sale of the stock of C. B. Tyler, the haberdasher. The lot comprises complete lines of underwear, handkerchiefs, suspenders, scarfs, dress and plain suits, hosiery, neckwear and other articles of gentlemen's dress. It will repay anybody to inspect the stock today. Sales are being made regardless of cost.
Grand Lodge L. O. G. T.
This lodge is growing fast, both in members and in interest. Four new members were initiated Monday night. Those who attend one meeting now are sure to return again, consequently large meetings are being held. The next meeting will be a time meeting to which all are invited. A rare treat is in store for those who will attend. The members and the public are cordially invited to be present next Monday night.
Unusual Auction Sale of Real Estate.
It is quite uncommon for such choice property as the Finch place, No. 398 Peachtree street, to be offered at public outcry. It is an elegant home in every sense of the word. The lot is as pretty as can be, and the residence is substantially built and furnished throughout the interior at great cost, and with fine taste. The sale has excited much interest, especially among property owners on Peachtree, who consider this a severe test of the real estate market at this time of depression. Therefore, a large attendance is anticipated, not only from Peachtree, but throughout the city. Mr. Samuel W. Goode, who has the sale in charge, says "the property will be put squarely on its merits," and bidders may feel easy on that score. The sale will be held on the premises this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

We have received a catalogue of mantels, and interior finish issued by Lafontaine & May, of this city. It is one of the handsomest of catalogues, and would do credit to any city in the country. A glance through it will convince any Georgian that he has literally no excuse for sending outside of the state for mantels, or fine wood work of any description. If this firm gets the home patronage it deserves it will be one of our greatest interests. With the best native woods at hand in exquisite taste and designing, their mantels equal anything that can be had anywhere. Our local contractors and architects will give Lafontaine & May every order that comes to their hands. It is only by building up such enterprises that we can ever build up our city and state.

The Home of the Woman's Christian Association.
Working women and girls wanting situations in good families can obtain them by applying to the home, 147 Marietta street. The sewing department is now open, and family sewing is solicited. There are sick in the hospital department, and several children in the nursery department. Money is needed to provide food, fuel and rent. One dollar a year entitles one to membership in the association. We need 2,000 ladies of all ages, who can help in this small fee and put this good work on a firm basis?

EIGHT PER CENT NET.
WITH YOUR MONEY SECURED BY A FIRST mortgage upon some of the choicest real estate in the city of Atlanta, or if preferred, the best farm lands in the state of Georgia, worth in every instance three times the amount loaned. I have been for the past several years in the special business of negotiating this class of loans for twenty years in the northwest (state of Iowa) up to 1880, and since 1880 here in Atlanta.
Complete abstracts of title by competent attorneys and all interest and principal collected without cost of expense to lenders. I use coupon notes, making them as convenient as government bonds. Investors are invited to call and have a talk, whether they desire to invest or not. Testimonials from people who have loaned through me for years are in my office.

By Samuel W. Goode to his sale of the Finch place at 4 p. m. this afternoon.
Entertainment at Concordia Hall.
Owing to the many pressing and urgent requests of the people who witnessed the entertainment at Concordia last Monday evening, the ladies have decided to give a matinee Friday afternoon for the special benefit of the many ladies and children who are unable to attend at night. After the style of a circus, every child is expected to be taken care of by at least a dozen grown folks, and every child in the city is invited to be present. The girls must come to see the children who act, and the boys must come to see the girls who act. The same programme will be presented, with the addition of other entertaining and humorous features.
Parties Invited to Examine the Finch Place
